Welcome to Belvedere Hall, a home whose name stems from the Latin “bellus” and “videri”—meaning “a beautiful sight.” Thoughtfully situated on Bivins Street, this timeless tudor retreat embraces garden views, curated details, and soft natural light. Classic elements—like a paneled walnut fireplace and a library that opens to a private garden—create a sense of romantic nostalgia. Belvedere Hall reflects old-world elegance and meticulous craftsmanship: a place of perspective, beauty, and enduring charm.
